The handwriting practice section consists of five rows of horizontal lines. Each row is defined by a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line. The first row includes a vertical line on the left and four horizontal arrows indicating stroke order: stroke 1 is a vertical line down, stroke 2 is a horizontal line from left to right at the bottom, stroke 3 is a horizontal line from left to right at the top, and stroke 4 is a horizontal line from left to right in the middle. The remaining four rows are empty grids for practice.
